Russian Court imposed a fine on Apple Inc for failing to comply with data localisation rule

Apple Inc. were sanctioned a fine of RUB 2 million following a decision issued by the Magistrate's Court of the Tagansky District of Moscow. The Federal Service for the Supervision of Communications, Information Technology and Mass Media found that Apple had refused to comply with a demand that foreign companies must provide documents confirming that the storage and processing of personal data of Russian users be carried out in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Romanian Data Watchdog fined logistics company for GDPR violations

The National Supervisory Authority for Personal Data Processing (ANSPDCP) Romania, issued a fine of RON 14,8230 on S.C. Delivery Solutions S.A. for violating multiple GDPR provisions. ANSPDCP determined that the personal data belonging to 26,566 individuals was available for sale on a hackers' forum and could be accessed by a link and also observed that S.C. Delivery Solutions acted as a processor for two different organizations and failed to implement adequate technical and organizational measures to protect the personal data, which led to the disclosure and/or unauthorised access of the data.

Guernsey's Data Protection Authority issued a reprimand for unlawful disclosure of sensitive personal data

The Office of the Data Protection Authority (ODPA) issued a reprimand to the Constables of St Peter Port after receiving a complaint. According to the complaint, personal data including sensitive personal data relating to the complainant was disclosed in an email to other members of the Douzaine (body of 12 officials representing a Guernsey parish) and to two parties outside the Douzaine. ODPA conducted an investigation and noted that the Constables had disclosed the complainant's sensitive personal data without an appropriate legal basis, and without previously informing the complainant that the email would be shared with third parties. Additionally, the OPDA found a lack of relevant policies and procedures to govern how personal data, especially higher risk special category data, should be handled and shared.
